ANNOUNCEMENT.

TO VOTERS OF THE ELEVENTH DISTRICT.
I was nominated by the Democratic Convention at Somerset, August 25th, to be voted for November 8th, for Representative of the Eleventh district in Congress. If elected I will owe the honor to the voters of Republicans and Independents as well as Democrats, and I will, in that event, pledge myself to be the official representative of all the people composing this great district.

Don't fail to be at the Commercial Club meeting next Monday night. There will be business of great importance to every citizen of our town to be considered. Be there by 6:30 o'clock. The meeting will be at the law office of T. D. Tinsley over R. W. Cole's grocery.

Enoch Evans, aged 53, died last Saturday night at 8 o'clock p. m., at his home on Poplar creek with consumption of the bowels. He was a well-to-do farmer, and leaves a widow and family of grown children. The remains were laid to rest at the Logan Gap graveyard. A. W. Hopper furnished the burial outfit.

Matchless Light.

Make your homes cheerful and pleasant by using electric lights. Conference is soon to convene here and your friends from a distance will expect to see these lights instead of the old out of date oil lamps. Special price on wiring houses, for ten days. These lights are always ready, steady and safe. They alleviate the burden of household work which is always hard enough, to say least.

Alex Sevier, of Barbourville, Ky., was seen at the Willard Hotel last night. He is merely stopping in the city for a few days on his way home from a northern summer resort. When asked his impression of the place, he said in the following poetic way:

Beaches and peaches,
Steamers and tugs;
Kisses and blisses,
Squeezes and hugs.
—Tuesday's Louisville Post.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Asher's little daughter died at Pineville last Friday and the remains were brought to this place Saturday for burial. The body was met at the train by A. W. Hopper's hearse.

Maud the little daughter of R. D. Smith, died at the family residence on Manchester Street in this city Monday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted at the home Tuesday afternoon by Dr. G. N. Jolly, after which the remains were interred in the Barbourville cemetery.

The funeral was under the management of A. W. Hopper the undertaker.

LIVE NOT IN VAIN.

Helen Hunt Jackson, whose grave lies in the midst of the Rocky Mountains, has expressed this well in the following lines:

If I can live
To make some pale face brighter, and to give
A second lustre to some tear-dimmed eye,
Or e'en impart
One throb of comfort to an aching heart,
Or cheer some wayworn soul in passing by;

If I can lend
A strong hand to the fallen, or defend
The right against a single envious strain,
My life, though bare
Perhaps of much that seemeth dear
and fair
To us of earth, will not have been in vain.

The purest joy,
Most near to Heaven, far from earth's alloy,
Is bidding cloud give way to sun and shine:
And 'twill be well
If on that day of days the angels tell
Of me: She did her best for one of Thine."

HOW careful we should be to guard our thoughts. If they are pleasant we will have pleasant faces and kind ways. We will gain treasures for days of adversity, upon which we can draw when other sources of enjoyment fail. Old age will be happy through them, for they will be used as material from which to build homes of refuge wherein we find comfort and delight when the windows are darkened and we are forced to keep company most of our time with what is within us.

BEAR in mind that your happiness or your misery is very much of your own making. You cannot create spiritual sunlight any more than you cannot create the morning star; but you can put your soul where Christ is shining. Keep a clear conscience. Keep a good stock of God's promises within reach. Keep a nightingale of hope in your soul that can sing away the dark hours when they do come.

THERE are two little words in our language which I always admired—"try" and "trust." Until you try you know not what you can or cannot effect; and if you make your trials in the exercise of trust in God, mountains of imaginary difficulties will vanish as you approach them, and facilities which you never anticipated will be afforded.

WHY should we do ourselves the wrong to live these shabby lives? God meant us to be conformed to the image of His Son; can we grasp the thought? One Son of God coming into the world, hungering and thirsting to do the Father's will, has made the world a different place to live in; what if many sons should be filled with His fulness here and now? Christ is not the door into a small life. We have not dreamed of what would be accomplished by the Church of Jesus Christ, if one-hundredth of its members lived up to their privileges. Eye hath not seen nor ear heard what God had prepared for them that grow up in all things unto Him.

Oh that I may grow;
What though Time cuts his furrows in my face,
My heart may ever add grace unto grace,
Graces with added days still keeping pace.
O that I may grow!

I have known a man to say things to his wife that almost broke her heart, and not have manhood enough to apologize to her. A week after he goes to town and gets her a cheap calico dress—only paying a nickel a yard for it—brings it home and throws it down in her lap. He is trying to patch up a broken heart with calico. Friends, it won't work that way, you can't heal a wound with dry goods. It isn't calico that a woman wants—it's a true husband.

I have a secret which I would like to whisper to the boys and girls if they will put their ears down close enough. I don't want father and mother to hear, for it is to be a surprise to them.

You have long wanted your own way. You have become tired of hearing mother say, "Come right home after school," "Don't be late," "Be sure to tell the teacher." It is "Do this" and "Don't do that" all the time. You are sick of it, would like to have your own way.

Well, put your ears down while I whisper the word, "Obey."

Oh, you think I am making fun! No, I am not. I know a boy who decided to do what his father said.

He never offered excuses, never tried to get out of work, until finally his father came to trust him perfectly. His father said: "I know that Harlie will do what is right." When he went out at night, or to school, or to play, his father never said a word, for he had come to have perfect confidence in his boy.

Honesty, obedience is the road to freedom. If you want to have your own way, just begin to obey.

That tells only half the story, and smaller half at that. Obedience is not only the road to freedom in the line of being allowed to govern one's self; it is also the road to freedom in the line of having one's own way. For the boy who learns to do right because it is right will by and by find that he is doing right because he likes to do it. Doing right is often difficult and unpleasant at first, but the oftener one does right the easier it becomes, and also, the pleasanter.

A man sixty-two years old was arrested yesterday with a full safe-cracking outfit, ingeniously distributed in the many pockets of a canvass hunting coat. The reporter who interviewed him in the sheriff's office says that "he talked intelligently, was refined in his manners and address, and would never have been suspected of being a desperado, though he had concealed on his person a Colt's revolver of 45 caliber."

This man, who served in a Massachusetts regiment all through the Civil War, has since served no less than five teams in State prisons. He now declares that he is going to quit the business, as he has learned after forty years of bitter experience, that it does not pay. When asked, "Why did you go into it?" his reply was, "Because I was a fool. It has brought me nothing but trouble."

Our young men who are tempted to begin a career of crime should be warned by the experience of this aged criminal. In wrecking safes he has wrecking his life. He says that after forty years spent in trying to get rich dishonestly, he is without a dollar and without a friend. Truly does the Bible tell us that "the way of the transgressor is hard." (Prov. 13: 15.)

Over 250,000 Pleased Customers

ONE FULL QUART OF WHISKEY FREE

We know the meaning of words and will do as we say. We claim to be the lowest-priced Whiskey House and the Largest Mail Order Whiskey Concern in the South. All the North Carolina Whiskey we sell is good—there's no bad. People here won't adulterate if they know how—they are too honest! Most whiskey sellers are noted for mixing, blending and watering. We sell more genuine old whiskey and less water than any known competitor. "Casper's 11 Year Old" Whiskey is a "liquid joy." It's made by honest "barbarians" in the mountains of North Carolina, in old-style copper stills, just as it was made by our grandfathers. First-rate whiskey is sold at $5.00 to $6.00 per gallon, but it's not any better than "Casper's 11 Year Old." It must please or we will buy it back. We have a capital of $100,000.00, and the Piedmont Savings Bank of this city will tell you our word is good. To introduce this old, honest whiskey, we offer four Full Quarts of "Casper's 11 Year Old"—two sample bottles on 10, one 15 year old—corkscrew and a drinking glass—all for $2.99. If $2.99 is sent we will double the above and put in free One Full Quart Extra. We have some of this whiskey only 7 years old, and will send five-gallon keg for $10 or will furnish twenty full quart bottles on receipt of bill and give free corkscrew, drinking glasses and sampler, making this whiskey cost less than $2.00 per gallon delivered. We ship in plain boxes with no marks to indicate contents, and Prepay all Express. Orders from Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Wyoming or Washington must be prepaid. No. 80 north by freight prepaid.

Why not let The Royal Tailors of Chicago make your fall suit or overcoat? When delivery is made, there will also be delivered a direct guaranty covering the quality of goods, the style and fit of the garments and the workmanship. And that guaranty is worth one hundred cents on the dollar to you. It means that you are to be satisfied with the garments when you get them—satisfied that they were made expressly for you, to your own measure—and it means that they will wear well, give you good service, and hold their shape as rightly-tailored garments should.

The cost of Royal tailoring is so low that you might almost think price was the first consideration. But it isn't. Value is first. Value-giving is at the basis of The Royal Tailors' success. The best for the money always—that is the Royal idea.

Customers of The Royal Tailors are invited to guess how many people will attend the World's Fair at St. Louis. They offer prizes consisting of ten Automobiles, to be given to the ten persons making the closest guesses. The cost of these Automobiles is $13,700. There are also eight cash prizes of $100 each, making the total value of the prizes $14,500. For every dollar you pay on an order for Royal tailoring you can make one guess; on a $15 suit you can make fifteen guesses, and on a $20 suit you can make twenty guesses, and so on—a guess for every dollar.

The Royal Tailors carry a million-dollar stock of woollens—something sure to please everybody; suits and overcoats for men and boys—ladies' man-tailored skirts and coats—all made strictly to measure at an actual proven cash saving of fully twenty-five per cent.

But the thing to do is to see the goods and get the prices. You can do that by calling on
